

Department of Consumer Sciences Student Profile

Erica McCulley

Consumer and Family Financial Services, 2010

What advice would you give students?

If you like a challenge
this is the major for you!

The work load may seem rigorous at times,
but it's great information.

What is the best part about the CFFS major?

The major provides courses that are essential to the financial planning industry. The courses in the major provide the foundation for studying for the CFP Examination.

Are you involved with any campus organizations?

I am a member of the Student Financial Planning Association and the Education and Human Ecology Council. I coordinated the Haiti Relief Fund organized by the EHE Council, raising over $2000.

Where are you completing your internship?

I have been working with Scarlet and Gray Financial at the RPAC since Spring Quarter 2009. I am a Peer Financial Counselor. The most fulfilling part about being a counselor is the range of questions that students ask. Through this program I was able to shadow a Certified Financial Planner on the National "Your Money Bus Tour". The event was later featured on the local NBC news.

What is your favorite OSU memory so far?

I have so many great memories at OSU that I can't rank them. However, I will say that I have enjoyed finding my purpose in life and staying in line with my faith.

What are your plans after graduation?
