- Interview if required by admissions committee
- Test of English as a Foreign Language (TOEFL) if required (minimum score of 550 paper, 213 computer-based, or 79 iBT TOEFL). This requirement applies to an applicant from a country where the native language is not English, unless a bachelor's degree or its equivalent or higher was earned in a country where English is the native language

Social Education & Global Education The award-winning Ph.D. program in Social Education and Global Education prepares researchers, curriculum leaders, and teacher educators in global perspectives, social education, and intercultural competence for K-12 and university education. As our international reputation draws educational professionals from across the planet, Ph.D. students from Asia, Africa, Europe, Latin America, the Middle East and North American enrich course content and enhance the development of cross-cultural skills and knowledge. Our faculty are recognized scholars in global education, social studies education, multicultural education, and economic education. Faculty research includes studies of how teachers teach about the world across three continents, cross-cultural online pedagogy, the role of social studies in African development, post-colonial identities, immigrant identities, and civic and economic education. We are especially interested in intersections of power, identity and perspective related to culturally relevant pedagogy, global studies, and citizenship education.

Required Hours The doctoral program requires a minimum of 135 hours of graduate credit beyond a baccalaureate degree or 90 credits beyond a master's degree. Of the 90 hours, a minimum of 70 hours is in coursework while a minimum of 20 hours is dissertation credit; however, students often exceed the minimum required hours as the length of the program ultimately depends on the nature of study and the individualized plan created between the student and the advisory committee.

Residency Requirements The purpose of the residency requirement is to give students the opportunity to engage in intensive, concentrated study over an extended period of time in association with faculty members and other students in an atmosphere conducive to a high level of intellectual and scholarly activity. The following requirements must be fulfilled after the master's degree has been earned or after the first 45 hours of graduate credit has been received:

- A minimum of 45 graduate credit hours must be completed at The Ohio State University;
- a minimum of three out of four consecutive quarters with enrollment of at least ten graduate credit hours per quarter must be completed while in residence at The Ohio State University; and
- A minimum of 20 graduate credit hours over a period of at least two quarters must be completed after admission to candidacy.

Academic Standards To remain in good academic standing, graduate students must maintain a minimum 3.0 overall GPA.

Candidacy Examination

After the completion of course requirements, doctoral students must pass both Written and Oral components of a comprehensive examination. A Candidacy Examination Committee specific to each student is formed to evaluate both the Written and Oral performances.

Dissertation Credit 20 Credit Hours

After successful completion of the Candidacy Examination, a doctoral candidate, with the supervision and support of the Dissertation Advisor, undertakes a project of original educational research and scholarship. The Dissertation consists of a written research document and a final Oral Defense that are evaluated by a candidate's Dissertation Committee

ADDITIONAL ACADEMIC SUPPORT

Advisory Committee

Each student will be assigned an initial faculty adviser during the first quarter of enrollment. Generally after the second quarter of enrollment, an advisory committee consisting of four professors is selected. The student will plan the doctoral program in consultation with this committee, which will be responsible for developing and assessing the Candidacy Examination. Upon completion of the examination, the committee may be reorganized to reflect the expertise needed
