Contact Person: Tom Carlisi

Phone: 785-1095

Address: 3230 Northwest Blvd, Columbus, OH 43221

Description of Agency: The Winner's League Foundation provides opportunities for youth to develop their life skills through participation in experiential learning groups, community service projects, school-to-work programs, and intergenerational activities. Learn, Serve, Earn are elements stressed through academic learning and community service. Examples of programs sponsored by this agency are Hunger for the Community (focusing on nutrition and creative solutions to the problem of hunger), Youth Entrepreneurship program (a model youth program teaching business skills and leadership), Environmental Stewardship (a waste reduction and recycling program in cooperation with businesses and organizations), and Adventure/Education/Peacemakers (training program for youth stressing anger management and cooperative problem-solving skills). This agency has a large variety of programs to offer.

Student Responsibilities: Responsibilities may vary depending upon what particular program a student becomes involved in. Typical responsibilities include interacting with and training youth, program development, and working extensively to coordinate the services and efforts of volunteers and students.
