CAEP Accountability Measure #3: Candidate Competency at Program Completion

The Ohio State University’s Advanced Educator Preparation Programs track candidates’ ability to meet state licensure test requirements. School Psychology candidates must pass the PRAXIS 5402 School Psychology exam and Principal candidates must pass the Ohio Assessments for Educators (OAE) 015 Educational Leadership test to be eligible for Ohio licensure. Completers from both programs take their assessment at the conclusion of their program.

Note: Candidates who intend to move out of state may elect to take other exams if they do not plan to seek Ohio licensure. Superintendent candidates are required to hold a Principal license prior to admittance; therefore, 100% will have passed the OAE 015 Educational Leadership test that Ohio requires. Ohio does not require a licensure test for a Pupil Services license in Orientation & Mobility.
