How this course works

This section of CSCFFS 2260 is an online course and there are no face-to-face class sessions. The course website provides the platform for dissemination of course instructional material including video lectures. The lectures are not synchronized. The required textbook for the course is available in hardback and electronic formats. Additional required readings are posted on the course website. All learning activities and examinations are administered online.

Pace of online activities: I divided this course into weekly modules. Carmen website contains syllabus, weekly homework assignments, weekly quizzes, weekly discussion forums, course notes, online course materials, and the grade roster. Please login to Carmen and watch the introduction video posted in Contents. Please remember that Carmen is now a new learning system CANVAS, but link is the same:

Course Expectations

Some of you have taken online courses previously, while for others this is your first experience in an online course. Expectations for performance in an online course are the same as for a traditional course; in fact, online courses require a degree of self-motivation, self-discipline, and technological skill that can make them more demanding for some students. Students and the instructor share mutual responsibility for a successful learning experience.

Students are expected to

- review the course syllabus and the course website and ask for any clarification needed
- log onto the course website regularly to access course material and announcements
- read all assigned material and review all information required for each week's course material
- complete the assignments by the corresponding deadlines
- review grades posted to the course website and notify the instructor immediately of any errors; the deadline for communicating all grade related issues to the instructor is 5:00 PM on the last day of regularly scheduled semester classes (Official Academic Calendar <http://registrar.osu.edu/staff/bigcal.asp>)
- notify the instructor immediately if extenuating circumstances interfere with participation in the course
- have an active OSU e-mail account and check the account daily for course related email

Students can expect the instructor to

- develop and provide instructional material to facilitate student learning

- provide clear guidance on the course expectations and requirements
- provide criteria for evaluation of the learning activities
- respond to email within one business day, excluding weekends
- meet with students during scheduled appointments (use OSU email to schedule appointments)
- post grades for learning activities within two weeks of the due date

Credit hours and work expectations: This is a 3-credit-hour course. According to Ohio State policy, students should expect around 3 hours per week of time spent on direct instruction (instructor content and Carmen activities, for example) in addition to 6 hours of homework (reading and assignment preparation, for example) to receive a grade of (C) average.

Please make sure that you have the 13th edition of the book. We are using the 13th edition. So, 11th, 10th or 12th editions are not good. The questions vary across the editions.

Course Requirements

The learning outcomes are satisfied through the content covered in readings, lectures and discussions. Proficiency is evaluated through homework assignments, quizzes and the midterm and end of term exam.

Grading Scale

The course final grade will be determined according to the following scale:

	B- 80-82%	C- 70-72%	E 0-59%

Netiquette

Netiquette refers to the guidelines to follow while communicating online. Specifically, in this course, netiquette covers the guidelines for posting to group discussions and writing email. We all know that it is important to be polite when talking to someone in person. Similarly, it is important to be polite when communicating electronically.

Writing email:

- Use your OSU Buckeyemail account for all correspondence with the course instructor.
- Put "CSCFFS 2260" in the subject line when emailing the instructor.
- Carefully read your email message for correct grammar, spelling, punctuation, and capitalization before sending.
- Be clear and specific so that I am able to understand your message and to respond appropriately.
- Use the academic credential addressing the instructor. i.e., Dr. Last name, or Professor Last name.

The University Center for the Advancement of Teaching provides a more extensive list of recommendations for netiquette in electronic class discussions (<http://ucat.osu.edu/Old-Files/Publications/elecdisc/pages/netiq.htm>) from which the guidelines for this course have been adopted.

Lectures

The lectures corresponding to each week's materials are provided on Canvas (previously Carmen) at 8am on Wednesdays. If you download the slides, and start the slideshow you will be able to hear my voice, or you can read the slides and the notes below. The chapters in the book are lengthy, the slides I prepared summarize the important points. There are Concept check at the end of each section. I tried to summarize the answers to these questions in my lecture. I also go through "do in class: problems" in a separate file.

Video or audio recording of classes without the explicit written permission of the instructor/professor is a violation of the Code of Student Conduct or Students who wish to record their classes must first obtain written permission of the instructor/professor. Otherwise, such recording constitutes a violation of the Code of Student Conduct.

Description of Assignments

Discussion questions (5 points each; 11 out of 13 count for 55 points)

- There will be one discussion question related to each week's material. The goal of the discussion questions is to encourage you to think about your own finances and future financial success. Both the discussion questions and the accompanied popular press readings are posted on Carmen site. The classroom is divided into multiple groups, and you will only see the posts in your group. Your thoughtful responses are appreciated.
- Your responses to 11 discussion questions worth 5 points each. Discussion questions account for 3% of your course grade. In order to receive credit, you will need to post your response to that week's discussion question by 11:59 PM of the due date, which is same as the due date for quiz and homework.
- Prepare appropriately for your participation in the discussions by reading the instructions and all required materials carefully. Post well-written information that follows the instructions and is relevant to the discussion topic. Carefully proof read your message before posting. Choose words carefully so that your point is expressed clearly. Always be constructive and tactful when responding to other posts. Remember that posts to a discussion are read by everyone in the class. Do not say anything in a post that you wouldn't say in public. Don't share confidential information in your posts. While there is no need to participate in class discussions as if you were writing a research paper, you should remember to write using good grammar, spelling, and punctuation. A more conversational tone is fine for non-academic topics. Maintain a supportive learning community where everyone feels safe and where people can disagree amicably.

Homework Assignments (50 points each; 11 of 13 count for 550 points)

- Personal finance applications are at the heart of this course and make up most of the homework problems. Homework is assigned for each chapter and listed on Carmen site.
- You should do these problems and assignments after reading the chapters and reviewing the course notes, and before taking the quizzes.
- Strict due dates are listed in the course schedule. I do not change or extend the deadlines. Be sure to meet these due dates to receive full credit for your work. The submission deadline for the homework problems is 11:59 PM of the due date.
- The 13 assignments are worth 50 points each, and only your highest score on 11 assignments will be included in your final grade calculation. Collectively the homework accounts for 550 points, or 33% of your course grade.

- Points will be earned if it is clear that you have made a good effort on each problem; points will be deducted for omitted problems and poor effort on individual problems. Assignments are graded right or wrong. However, grading for homework is more lenient compared to the grading for midterm and the end of term exam. Suggested answers to homework problems will become available through the course web page. I provide hints to the homework problems. However, I try not to provide the whole solution to the problems. Please look for the video hints on Canvas site. Consider composing your academic posts in a word processor, where you can save your work, and then copying into the Carmen discussion.

Quizzes (60 points each; 11 of 13 count for 660 points)

- There are 13 multiple choice and T/F question quizzes worth 60 points each. Only the highest scores for 11 of the 13 quizzes will count in your final grade (for a total of 660 points or 40% of your grade).
- Quizzes are online at our Carmen site and you may use all course materials when doing the quizzes. You are allowed two attempts at each quiz and only your highest score will be used in your final grade calculation. You are not required to use both attempts, but the second try is there to help you if you need it. The two quizzes you attempt for each chapter will not be the same but will be drawn from the same pool of questions.
- Time limits are enforced (45 minutes for 30 questions).
- You will need to complete one quiz each week by 11:59 of the due date.

Graded Problem Sets (200 points each; Midterm and end of term exam for a total of 400 points)

- There are two right-wrong graded problem sets roughly serving as a “take-home” Midterm and the end of term exam.
- The Midterm Graded Problem Set covers Chapters 1 to 8 (excluding Chapter 2) and is due October 20 by 11:59 PM in the appropriate Carmen.osu.edu folder.
- The end of term Graded Problem set is due by December 8 by 11:59 PM. It covers Chapters 9-13 and 17.
- The problems will be similar to the applied problems assigned in the homework assignments and the best way to study is to closely review the suggested answers for chapter covered in the “midterm” and “end of term exam.” No collaboration is allowed on these graded exercises. If you are approached by a classmate to collaborate on the graded problem sets, it is your responsibility to report this person to me as soon as possible. I will not provide hints on graded problem sets. Only one attempt per examination is allowed.
- These problems will be graded right or wrong (with partial credit in most cases where a good effort is shown). Both graded problem sets total 400 points accounting for 24% of your final grade.

POLICIES RELATED TO ALL COURSE WORK

Academic integrity: You are expected to complete all course work with fairness and integrity. You are encouraged to review “Ten Suggestions for Preserving Academic Integrity” <http://oaa.osu.edu/coamtensuggestions.html>. In particular, acknowledge the sources that you use when completing assignments, do not fabricate information, do your own work, and protect your work and the work of others. If you have any questions, please ask!

Due dates: Due dates for all learning activities are listed in the course syllabus and on the course website. Any necessary changes in due dates will be posted on the course homepage and each student is responsible for receiving such information. No late work is accepted and a grade of zero will be given.

Grade posting and feedback on assignments: All grades will be posted to the course website. Students wishing to review midterm or the end of the term exams should schedule an appointment with the instructor.

Questions about grades: Students wishing to appeal the grading of any course work, including exams, must make the appeal in writing to the instructor within seven calendar days after the grade is posted to the course website. The request must include a clear description of why the student believes the work was incorrectly graded.

Ohio State’s academic integrity policy

Academic integrity is essential to maintaining an environment that fosters excellence in teaching, research, and other educational and scholarly activities. Thus, The Ohio State University and the Committee on Academic Misconduct (COAM) expect that all students have read and understand the university’s *Code of Student Conduct*, and that all students will complete all academic and scholarly assignments with fairness and honesty. Students must recognize that failure to follow the rules and guidelines established in the university’s Code of Student Conduct and this syllabus may constitute “Academic Misconduct.”

The Ohio State University’s Code of Student Conduct (Section 3335-23-04) defines academic misconduct as: “Any activity that tends to compromise the academic integrity of the university or subvert the educational process.” Examples of academic misconduct include (but are not limited to) plagiarism, collusion (unauthorized collaboration), copying the work of another student, and possession of unauthorized materials during an examination. Ignorance of the university’s Code of Student Conduct is never considered an excuse for academic misconduct, so I recommend that you review the Code of Student Conduct and, specifically, the sections dealing with academic misconduct.

If I suspect that a student has committed academic misconduct in this course, I am obligated by university rules to report my suspicions to the Committee on Academic Misconduct. If COAM determines that you have violated the university’s Code of Student Conduct (i.e., committed academic misconduct), the sanctions for the misconduct could include a failing grade in this course and suspension or dismissal from the university.

If you have any questions about the above policy or what constitutes academic misconduct in this course, please contact me.
